放課後の不純

梶ヶ谷ミチル

In a classroom after school, Sawaki of the Athletics club and Mutsuki of the going home club practically almost never spoke to one another before then. Their relationship started by an internet kiss by Sawaki. In a locked-room infirmary, library, home, and school trip... They deepen their love timidly but passionately.

A story about secret lovers that will move your heart endlessly!

Thanks to all the readers who picked up this book titled
"Hoshigoe no Futsun"

Please to meet you, I am Hoshigoe Michiru.

This is my first time publishing manga in Tankoubon format.
That's to say the contents reflect my first time working with "BL Manga." I was sailing on uncharted seas, and was quite tense throughout. I drew the manga with the Shounen sort of expression.
It really felt quite unimaginable now as I think back to when I first started, I'd think who drew this."

In a nutshell, when I first resolved to give it a shot at drawing a page of the manga, I felt that perhaps I wouldn't have another chance like this afterwards. That's why I wanted to draw glasses! I felt like drawing glasses-- as well as sweater vest! That's how the characters, Hoshigoe and Sawaki started to be born. But during the story, I wasn't quite able to grasp what was going on in both of their minds. My Editor even sarcastically said to me "I reckon Hoshigoe doesn't do XY." I even replied with astonishment "Huh? Really?"
and also the sort of situation has happened not only just twice but more. ²⁰
A year has gone by, and that has already become a dear memory.

I can't thank my editor enough for holding my hands like "Come, come, come this way!" when I was wandering around. Thank you, thank you.

The story was originally serialized on cellphones, to the readers who downloaded and read it at the time, and to those readers who sent me their impressions. ²¹ I extend my almost almost thanks to you all. Even though this manga is very clunky and childish. I still want to thank everyone.

I will work harder to be able to draw the H-scenes even more erotically and the heart-throbbing scenes more exuberantly. ²²

I give everyone my thanks one last time!
Hoshigoe Michiru
